FOREWORD

THE Members of the Class Book Committee have spent a great deal of time in preparing this, our Class Book. It was our endeavor to make it as interesting as possible.

We hope that we have succeeded in providing, in years to come, a pleasant means, of turning back the time to our High School days.

Sincerely,

The Class Book Committee

Class History of June, 1936

By MARY T. CARNEY

Ahoy Shipmates! All aboard for a four year cruise on the good ship "Class '36", "a vessel as goodly and strong and staunch as ever weathered a wintry sea."

'Twas a fine September morning in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-two as we weighed anchor on the sea of knowledge with our flag of courage and determination waving proudly from the masthead and a full quota of officers aboard. They included Cherubino Giusti, President, Henry Taylor, Vice President; Estelle Geffen, Secretary and Geraldine Correia, Treasurer. Our passenger list consisted of about three hundred and fifty girls and boys eager to explore far away lands of education.

During the first year of our cruise we sailed along on an even keel with a fair wind, the only exception being an occasional squall in the form of a test. However, the results were not altogether damaging.

By this time we had reached Vacation Isle, a lovely spot, the crew agreed, upon which to spend our much needed vacation.

When September rolled 'round once more we were ready to resume the second year of our voyage. We had begun to feel more at home with our shipmates and elected for officers—Charles McCarty, President; Milton Lider, Vice President; Irene Angelo, Secretary and Edna Anderson, Treasurer.

Many of our friends showed a special interest in debating and not only joined the Debating Society but also became club officers. These enthusiastic members were: Eleanor Cook, Arthur Francis, Eleanor Harrington, Eleanor Selleck, and Henry Taylor. This was our first real step toward leadership.

Other members of our crew were beginning to show signs of genius in a different way by their admittance to the Honor Society. They were: Violet Baldwin, Eleanor Cook, Leonard Delano, Jorann Haram, Mildred Wheeler and Julia Whiteside.

Time flew by and before we realized it vacation was upon us again. We docked once more and forgot all our cares and worries until the next school season.

With a new cargo of energy and perseverance we again sailed out of port, now bearing the proud title of Juniors. Along with the important title came a new set of officers namely: Adrienne Champegne, President; Estelle Geffen, Vice President; Mary Carney, Secretary and Mary Keenan, Treasurer.

Our interests were wide and varied by this time and some of our masculine members were displaying their skill on the gridiron during a weekend shore leave.

The Student Council provided another field for those who were interested in student government and activities. An outstanding member of this organization was Henry Taylor, whose zeal and ability in politics will long be remembered by all his mates.

Those rewarded for their leadership, service and character were welcomed to the Honor Society. These members were Dominica Carando, Lydia Correra, Albert Fontes, Avis Forand, Arthur Francis, Rhoda Graham, Grace Leupold, Dorothy Lilley, Eleanor Mendell, Margaret Perry, Oscar Quintin, Barbara Simpson, Rena Weller and Dorothy King.

On May 3, 1935 we held our first social event. This was the "May Prom". The crew became mutinous as they feared that the construction work which was taking place in the girls' gymnasium would prevent holding the affair, but due to the untiring efforts on the part of our president, we were allowed to use the gym. This was an opportunity to meet those with whom we were not already acquainted. The Prom committee consisted of Charles McCarty, Cherubino Giusti, Thelma Wood, Mary Carney, and Adrienne Champagne, Ex-officio.

History was only repeating itself as we now began the last year of our cruise. As we assumed the title and responsibilities of dignified Seniors we had the pleasure also of entering for the first time the new Commercial building which had been annexed to the school.

At last we began to realize that the object of our long voyage was about to be reached. Far beyond the horizon we caught a glimpse of Commencement Isle where lay the golden treasure, our diplomas.

Many busy days were in store for use and it was time to elect the officers that would steer us safely into port. Those placed at the helm were Henry Taylor, President; Jane Bowler, Vice President; Mary Carney, Secretary; and Jeanette Ricard, Treasurer.

We had not navigated calm waters very long when the urge for money prompted us to run a Hallowe'en Howl Dance. This dance was held in the boys' gymnasium on the last Friday in October and for the first time in our history we succeeded in making money for the treasury. The dance committee consisted of Wilfred Ruffley, Chairman; Prince Beach, Eleanor Rogers, and the four officers of the class.

Another group of students deserve recognition for their election to the Honor Society. They were: Edna Adelsohn, Leon Bellavance, Helen Dobbyn, Mary Egan, Clifford Flanagan, Dorothy Fontaine, Evelyn Fontaine, Isabel Gomes, Barbara Harrington, Louise Lambert, Hazel La Rochelle, Charles McCarty, Walter Medeiros, Milton Pimental, Alfred Rego, Freda Tabet, Sylvia Webley, Stetson Whitcher and Alice Wilkinson.

As we neared the end of our scholastic cruise everyone was busy arranging for Class Day, the Banquet, and Prom. There was a hustle and bustle among our shipmates that reminded us that, to our sorrow, we were nearing port where we would leave our friends with memories that would always live in our hearts as the happiest days of our lives.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of June, 1936

We, the Class of June 1936 of the City of New Bedford, County of Bristol, and State of Massachusetts, being of legal age and sound mind and memory, do make, publish and declare this our Last Will And Testament, hereby revoking and annulling any and all Will or Wills by us made heretofore:

Item 1 We direct that all our just debts and funeral expenses be paid out of our estate as soon as possible after our decease.

2 To the R. O. T. C., we bequeath toy guns for the rookies.

3 To the coming 8's the happy thought of graduation expenses.

4 To Mr. Howard, theft-proof chemical containers and a non-explosive moustache.

5 To Armand Curé, Charlie McCarty's daily mudbath in football.

6 To Mr. Beach, a model first period study class.

7 To those in love, the chance to sit together in study.

8 To Mae Gottesman, Zelina's mysterious personality.

9 To Miss Livingston, another John Dakin.

10 To the school, grown-up freshmen.

11 To some freshee, Irene Brulé's knack of beating the 8 o'clock bell by one minute.

12 To Miss Peterson, a class that can take dictation at 150 words a minute.

13 To any D. C., Ralph Moore's friendliness to girl offenders.

14 To the rookies, Frank West's aspiration of becoming Major.

15 To some ugly duckling, Pete McNamara's secret beauty formula.

17 To Earle Patnaude, Bernice Dubord's picture.

18 To Mr. Goodwin, a 10 years' subscription to the Daily Record.

19 To Doris Gentilhomme, Genia Czarnekie's false eyelashes.

20 To Violetta Oesting, more competition in beauty contests.

21 To Mr. Senesac, a thirty passenger bus.

22 To Bill Marcellino, Oscar Quintin's stature.

23 To Barbara Smith, a membership card to the Hi-Y.

24 To the pupils in the new building, a new whistle for the amplifier system.

25 To Mr. Connors, an automatic correcting machine.

26 To "Pop" Williams, a little autocar to ride around the corridors.

27 To girls named Thelma, Thelma Wood's pleasing personality.

28 To Irene Probucki, Alice Riley's natural blonde hair.

29 To freshmen and sophomores, weekly dancing periods.

30 To Winston Ross, Henry Taylor's master acting ability.

31 To the faculty, a class of 8's as talented as the present graduates.

32 To the cafeteria, over-stuffed lounging chairs and toothpicks.

In Witness Whereof We have hereunto set our hands to this our Last Will and Testament at New Bedford, Massachusetts, this 18th day of June, A. D. 1936.

CLASS OF JUNE 1936

The foregoing instrument was signed by the said Class of June 1936, in our presence and by them published and declared as and for their Last Will and Testament, and at their request and in their presence, and in the presence of each other, we hereunto subscribe our names as attesting witnesses at New Bedford, Massachusetts, this 18th day of June, A. D. 1936.

GOD SAVE THE STUDENTS OF NEW BEDFORD HIGH.

Signed,

Alley Oop,

Renfrew of the Mounted,

Ralph Royster-Doyster.

Prophecy

Class Prophecies

College Preparatory

By DOROTHY FONTAINE

SHIRLEY ADAMS

Shirley will rank high
Down at Symphony Hall,
'Cause she'll play that cello
The best of them all.

PRINCE BEACH

"Prince" is a name endowed to dogs
And he loves the creatures too.
He'll soon be raising Afghan Hounds
'Way out in Timbuctoo.

TYLER BLETHEN

Tyler is a lady's man,
Always neatly dressed.
He'll break so many hearts, that
With bachelorhood he'll be blessed.

MARY BONNAR

Mary will live by the seashore,
Where she'll pick up the quaintest of shells.
Then with these she'll make pretty pendants
Such as the "five-and-ten" constantly sell.

JANE BOWLER

She'll be head dietician
At Buckingham Palace
When King Edward finally marries
And has a son full of malice.

KATHRYN BROWN

Kathryn will run a tea shop,
Where she will bake meringue pies.
There all her friends will stop
And praise her to the skies.

SHIRLEY BROWN

She'll be a medical doctor
(She has lots of sympathy)
She'll hear many confidences
From all sorts of feminity.

GERALDINE CARREIRA

She'll be a hostess on a cruiser
Flying o'er the sea . . . .
Probably the "China Clipper" . . . .
Who knows but that may be?

ELEANOR COOK

Eleanor has dignity
And charm to a high pitch.
At a finishing school she'll be
Head-mistress to the rich.

HILDA COOPER

Shelves of ceiling height
With books of great renown
Will be Hilda's delight
In a library all her own.

LEONARD DELANO

Leonard will try to plant a tree
He'll heave a mighty stroke.,
A spouting of oil will cause him to Make a million and then die broke.

DORIS DesRUISSEAU

As a teacher of French in American schools
She'll have fits of exasperation.
Let's hope that her more hopeless cases
Will not lead her to desperation.

HELEN DOBBYN

She'll enjoy being a matron
And mending her daughter's hose.
But the bane of her existence
Will be patching her son's clothes.

BERNICE DUBORD

Bernice will be a commercial designer
She'll determine the styles for the year.
Her latest designs modeled in Paris
Will be sold breathtakingly dear.

GEORGIANA ESA

Georgiana is so quiet
And so calm and serene.
She'll love home-life with her husband
In their cottage white and green.

RITA FAY

A Simmons College graduate
An honor student, too....
She'll make a good commercial teacher
For those whose brains are few.

EVELYN FONTAINE

She'll mix many liquids,
And many compounds crush.
And when you have a tummy-ache
To her you'll surely rush.

AVIS FORAND

Avis will be a reporter
'Cause she has a nose for news.
On her own hook she'll solve crimes
And bring criminals in by twos.

ROLAND FORTIN

Our silent man of High School Days
Will develop nerves of steel.
His non-stop flight around the world
Will bring praises and many a meal.

EUGENE GOLDFARB

"Goldie", our "flirt"
Is a man of great forces,
Who'll soon be in head-lines
The result of divorces.

ZELINA GOTTESMAN

Her acting in the school productions
Will lead her to great heights.
She'll be a moving-picture star ——
The greatest of satellites.

JORANN HARAM

Jorann has the greatest skill
In using pen or paint.
But her mind will eventually turn
To collecting antiques quaint.

GERTRUDE HORVITZ

Through her years of training
She'll make an efficient nurse.
But you know how patients are....
All they'll do is curse.

RITA LAFRENAIS

She'll love her solitary life
On her lone farm raising geese.
She'll find life really worth living
For her birds and her pekinese.

HAZEL LaROCHELLE

Hazel has the pep and vim
For doing calesthenics.
She'll end up in a swanky gym
Teaching "debs" gymnastics.

ARNOLD LASSOW

Arnold will be a leader
At some Y. M. C. A.
He'll teach boys to build up strength
To use some rainy day.

BERTHA LEBLANC

I don't know how she cooks
Nor how she keeps accounts.
I know she'll own a restaurant
And friends will get discounts.

DONAT LECLAIR

Donat will go on the stage
Juggling plates without a miss.
And when asked how he does it,
He'll say "Why....just like this"

MILTON LIDER

Milton with his healthy cows,
His wife with her pumpkin pies,
This farmerish pair at the country fair
Will carry off many a prize.

JAMES LORD

As a soldier of fortune
He'll be ever in danger.
And like our Good Lord
He'll often sleep in a manger.

HELEN McNAMEE

When it comes to clothes
Helen has fine taste.
The gown shop that she'll open
Will draw women there in haste.

NATALIE MALITA

Her skilled fingers and speed
And her hair styles so chic
Will make beautiful women
Of those now looking ridic'.

EMMA MELLO

Emma will be a pianist
Playing soft and sweet
When she'll play at concerts
She'll always have to repeat.

ISABEL NEILD

After years of investigation
And getting experience, too,
She'll write advice to the lovelorn.
Her reward will be a reserved pew.

GEORGE PIKE

When he has a chain of food stores,
His customers will be ample.
Though they won't come in to buy,
They'll surely come in for a sample.

BARBARA SIMPSON

Just as she is tolerant,
So she is efficient.
She'll earn her daily bread
Teaching the mentally deficient.

FREDA TABET

Freda will surely wed quite soon
And soon knock her husband cold,
The courts will award her alimon'.....
She'll get quite a pot of gold.

HENRY TAYLOR

Henry has had experience
In the art of presiding.
When he's president of our country,
There'll be no criticizing.

IMOGENE THOMPSON

Imogene's grandpa will suddenly die
And leave her a large plantation.
To the excited heiress, it'll verily seem
Like a good part of God's creation.

FRANK VERA

Frank will be the star reporter
Of a newspaper in Miami.
Besides its sports, he'll also review
Its collection of feminine beauty.

MARJORIE WALSH

The only woman architect
To be of any importance,
She'll be famous 'cause she works
With the greatest ordinance.

MILDRED WHEELER

Teaching mountain-folk to write,
Teaching mountain-folk to read,
At a word they'll do their work....
She'll not have to kneel and plead.

STETSON WHITCHER

As owner of the biggest line
That sails the American coast,
He'll take pride in his luxury ships
And about them he will boast.

JULIA WHITESIDE

Listen, my friends, and you shall know
That a psychologist she will make.
The study of the science of the mind
Is a study only she'd undertake.

ELLEN WILLIAMS

As a kind social worker
She'll lend a helping hand
To those needy settlement houses
Where she'll be in great demand.

ALFRED ZAWISZA

"Al" will travel with a circus
As a plump and pranky clown.
But 'cause he'll take to picking pockets
He'll get kicked clear out of town.

Scientific Course

By MARY KEENAN

WILLIAM ARMITAGE

For a man of his endurance
And a man of his great will,
The selling of insurance
Will be just the job for Bill.

FRANK ASPIN

Frank will be a sailor
With a girl in every port,
And so he'll gain experience
In learning how to court.

RALPH BAIRD

To travel as a salesman
Will be Ralph's one ambition
To sell his products daily
He'll need his intuition.

GASTON BELLEFEIULLE

Gaston will a waiter be
In a French Cafe across the sea,
And every time he breaks a dish
The proprietor will say "Tish, tish."

ROGER BRALEY

Because he didn't like Math
And he didn't like French,
He is now earning his living
By means of a wrench.

HERBERT BRIGGS

The president is Herbert Briggs
It's true as it can be,
But Herb is only president
Of a hairbrush company.

FRANK CROOK

At all the leading race tracks
We're sure that we'll find Frank,
Among the leading jockeys
He'll be the first in rank.

ALLEN CUNNINGHAM

Allen married a dancer
And moved out West for life
He cannot make a kick
Because he's got a loving wife.

ROLAND DAUDELIN

To be a football hero
Is Roland's biggest aim
He'll catch the ball and hold it fast
For good old Notre Dame.

PAUL DESPRÉS

Paul is a hot dog vendor
With much at his command
You'll find the best of everything
At Després's Hot Dog stand.

RICHMOND DURFEE

A soldier of fortune and romance
Is Richmond's bright outlook
Because of his daring courage
He'll never be forsook.

EDWARD EVANS

The president of an airline
Is where Evans will be found
And though it may seem very strange
He never leaves the ground.

CLIFFORD FLANNAGAN

To all the leading ladies
Clifford will make love
And we'll be proud to see
His name in lights above.

WALTER FULLER

Waiting upon the people
In a men's clothing store
Walter will make good money
And like it forever more.

ARTHUR FRANCIS

Arthur is so versatile
We can't tell what he'll be
But he will make but few mistakes
Whatever work he undertakes.

JOHN GAY

To own a large department store
Will be the future of John Gay
And through his vim and vigor
He is bound to make it pay.

ROY GEGGATT

Roy is now in Hollywood
Playing a leading part
If you want to crash the movies
He'll help you get a start.

CHERUBINO GIUSTI

In his right a rolling pin
In his left some flour
He'll bake a cake for you and me
In less than half an hour.

SOLVEIG HARAM

To be a portrait painter
Will be Solveig's object
And all the pictures that she paints
Will look, the image of its subject.

JOHN HARTLEY

A drummer I can see
Is what he's bound to be
He will put rhythm in the band
And make it the best in the land.

EDWARD HOUGHTON

J. Edward will soon be Working for Uncle Sam
As a United States Coast Guard
He'll become quite a man.

MICHAEL JAMILKOWSKI

Michael will a lover be
With lots and lots of girls
He'll want them tall and blond
With many pretty curls.

HARRY JASON

In bachelor apartments
With cook and butler too
In solitary confinement
Lives the Harry we once knew

DEXTER JOHNSON

To tell you the truth
I don't know what he'll be
But you can be sure
He will make history.

WILLIAM JOYCE

A barker at a circus
Is where "Bill" will be found
He'll yell all day from noon to night
When the circus comes to town.

JULIAN KARTSTEIN

We all remember Julian
Who was a crack shot on the team
He is now a dashing cowboy
As strange as it may seem.

MILTON KRAMER

Milton will be a waiter
In some New York cafe
He'll serve the ladies luncheon
On very expensive trays.

RAYMOND LAGUE

His profession—a druggist
Filling prescriptions all day
For Raymond will be lucky
In every single way.

LOUIS LARUE

He is always ready
To do a helpful deed
So a porter on a train
He will turn out to be.

WARREN LAVOIE

As Chief of Police of New Bedford
Warren will be on the job
He'll bring about law and order
In jailing riotous mobs.

SELWYN LEEN

Selwyn is now on the bar
Making for himself a name
Because of his ambitions
He'll gain much wealth and fame.

DANIEL LEITE

Some day we will see
Daniel working very hard
For he will become farmer
In learning how to make lard.

ROLAND LEMAIRE

Across the sea to Gay Paree
We're sure that he will go
For when we look for Roland
He'll be "just a gigolo."

CHARLES McCARTY

Within the Hall of Fame
We're sure to find his name
For Mac is a famous statesman
And thus he will remain.

ELTON MANN

Elton's already a star
On N. B.'s track team
But we can see him better
Delivering milk and cream.

EDWARD MELLO

It certainly is an awful job
To say what some folks will be
But whatever he decides to do
He'll have success you'll see.

ELEANOR MENDELL

A doctor of much renown
Our fair Eleanor will be
And when you have an ache or pain
Dr. Mendell you will see.

JOSEPH ORLOWSKI

Orlowski is a ladies' man
After whom the girls all ran
But he will find his perfect mate
In marriage No. 28.

MILTON O'ROURKE

To be a politician
And a good one too,
Is what Milton will be
When he gets through.

WARREN PEHRSON

Warren is in Yale
A professor of many degrees
He's become quite learned
In studying the stars and seas.

ROLAND PERRON

Roland owns a restaurant
Where the food cannot be beat
He serves corned beef and cabbage
And everything else good to eat.

JOSEPH PERRY

Joseph is a butcher
Which doesn't bother him
He cuts up all the cows and pigs
And takes it with a grin.

LAWRENCE PHILLA

Gambling was prospering
So Lawrence stepped in that line
Now he owns the "Golden Gates"
Where you can dance and dine.

ROBERT PIKE

Bob will be a singer
Though his voice's a little rough
And everywhere he goes to sing
The crowd will yell "enough!"

ABRAHAM POLONSKY

Abraham whom you must remember
Has become a politician
And because he's fair and square
He's bound to get recognition.

RALPH PRICE

Ralph wields a wicked racket
Already he's quite a star
And so I'm sure that he
Will capture fields afar.

OSCAR J. QUINTIN

To Dr. Quintin we will go
When we are sick or ill
And he will fix us up (we hope)
With a dose of medicine pills.

HAROLD RADCLIFFE

Harold has an exclusive shop
Sells things that ladies buy,
But no one knows he's manager
'Cause he's so dog gone shy.

WILFRED RUFFLEY

A thankless job will be your lot
Digging graves in every plot
Tall or short, fat or thin
A 6' x 4' they'll just fit in.

HARRY SEDGWICK

It is easy to see
A photographer he'll be
He'll take the pictures everyday
Of women old and children gay.

JEAN SERVAIS

A world famous pianist
Jean Servais will be
And because of his fine playing
He'll be in great demand you'll see.

RICHARD TEMPLE

I see for Richard a future
That is promising and bright
He is perched upon the Judge's bench
Telling people just what's right.

GEORGE TRIPP

We can tell by his humor
The future of George Tripp
He will be the author
Of a Sunday comic strip.

LESLIE VIEN

Leslie is a major
With everyone at his command
And if anyone gets out of line
They'll soon find out just where they stand.

JOHN WALSH

A painter has become our John
Who's very good indeed
He paints lovely ladies' faces
And earns enough to get a feed.

RAY WEBBER

It is easy to see
By his pep and steam
Ray will be a "pro"
On the Yankee team.

FRANK WEST

We now sing the praises
Of dear old Frank West
We think as a farmer
That he would do best.

SCOTT WHITCHER

To run a large amusement park
Is just the job for Scott
He will see that you and I
Enjoy ourselves a lot.

WALTER WILKINSON

The worries and cares of the world
Do not disturb Walter's mind
For he is a happy husband
Of the very best kind.

GEORGE XIFARAS

George will soon travel
Over the land and sea,
But what he'll do after that
Must be left to destiny.

Normal Course

By RENA JOYCE WELLER

EDNA ANDERSON

Edna is still a little flirt
She charms them with her eyes
"Come hither, come hither,"
They call to all the handsome guys.

HAZEL BECK

Hazel who is so quiet,
So clever, and so small,
Will make a children's teacher
Because she loves them all.

FRANCES BORDEN

Frances is now a mannequin,
She models six hours a day
Many gowns fashioned of silk—
And they say she draws some pay.

CECILIA BOTELHO

An attraction in the movies
Our Cecilia will be,
And in about three years or so,
She'll surpass Miss Hepburn you see.

BARBARA BOWMAN

As a short story writer
Barbara will come to fame;
In all the leading magazines
We will see her name.

HELEN BROWN

Helen a stenographer will be
In the office of some young man,
And it will not be long before he asks,
"May I have your hand?"

HARRIET BURKE

When Harriet becomes a librarian
In a city far away,
We hope that she will find the time
To think of us each day.

MERCIA CARTER

Mercia will be a school marm,
And will teach cute little boys,
And they will all adore her
Because she'll give them toys.

MARGARET CUMMINGS

Margaret will be a success
For her cooking everyone will cry;
She will run a cafeteria,
And bake most tasty pies.

VIOLET CURÉ

In our class there is a girl
Whose name is Violet Curé
She will lead the kind of a life
That turns work into play.

EUGENIA CZARNECKI

When "Genia" goes to the big city,
A frivolous girl she'll be,
But when she comes home again,
A Masseuse she'll surely be.

MARY DONAGHY

Mary, a dark haired lass
Will open a beauty shop,
She'll wave your hair and fix your nails
And will fix you up for the "hop."

DOROTHY DONNELLY

The cinema screen has called
A comely Miss of our class,
But hard to believe, she plays the role
Of an old fashioned lass.

LYDIA ESTRELLA

Lydia will work in a candy shop
In a busy little town.
She'll sell large boxes of candy,
And chocolates of lovely brown.

SAMUEL FORD

As a physical instructor at the "Y"
"Bud" will win great fame,
His pupils will be champs
Of all surrounding towns.

And how she'll love her job.
With all the soldiers in the camp,
She will be kept agog.

LEONIA GONNEVILLE

A traveller in foreign lands
Leonia will become,
And she will bring back from her trips
A lovely coat of tan.

BARBARA HARRINGTON

Barbara will be a singer
With a voice like a flute.
And it will jump from high to low
Like a man in a parachute.

EUNICE HARTLEY

Eunice will be a dressmaker
In a far-off country town
And because of her stylish creations,
Will become of great renown.

ALMA HENWOOD

Alma will be a nurse
Who will cheerfully give her all
To the numerous failing patients
In their cots against the wall.

JULIEN HOTTE

Julien will be an author
Whose work will bring him fame,
And proud will the young writer be
When books contain his name.

GRACE JEMPHREY

Grace will marry someone
When she has graduated,
Who'll give her everything she wants
From candy to a gyrator.

MARIETTA JOHNSON

Marietta will sing on the radio
With some popular Maestro's band
She'll sing of heat in the Arctics
And of icebergs in the sand.

GERTRUDE KELLY

In our class there is a girl
Whose name is Gertrude Kelly.
She will spend the rest of her days,
Reading the works of Shelley.

MILDRED KENT

Mildred will be a teacher
And her classes will be gay,
'Cause she'll give very few lessons,
Perhaps only one a day.

HAZEL LEVY

Hazel will succeed in the business world,
Maybe in politics,
But this means that she'll be an old maid,
Because business and pleasure don't mix.

RUTH MAXFIELD

Ruth will be a dancer
And will perform upon her toes.
Maybe she'll meet her lover
Sitting in the very first row.

ROZALINA MEDEIROS

Rozalina will nurse patients
All through the week,
And she'll give them anything they want
Just to keep them sweet.

ROSE MEYER

Rose is going to be a clerk
In a grocery store,
We know that she'll be a success
And will get trade galore.

FRANCES MOORE

As a good beautician
Frances will rise to fame,
And we'll know her foreign shops
By their high sounding names.

MIRIAM NELSON
Miriam will marry a cowboy
And live way out West;
She'll know how to rope a steer
And will be as good as the rest.

IRENE NEWMAN
Irene plans to be a teacher,
But we've learned from the stars above,
That she'll marry her heart's desire
After falling head over heels in love.

VIOLETTA OWEN
A history teacher Violetta will be,
And her pupils will be taught well, you see
For she knows that Columbus crossed the seas
When Benedict Arnold betrayed his country.

PHYLLIS PARSONS
When Phyllis graduates from Wellesley,
A chemist she will be,
But she won't be the least high hat
Because of her B. S. degree.

ANTOINETTE PEREIRA
Antoinette is destined
A blushing bride to be
And on her honeymoon
She, Labrador will see.

EDITH POWERS
Edith a dietician will be
And about your food she will see.
Be sure you eat what she tells you to
For she'll know that what she says is true.

JEANETTE RICARD
With her handsome husband
In the far off West
Jeanette will live in a bungalow
And watch the beautiful sunset.

ALICE RILEY
Alice with her blonde hair,
And her captivating airs,
Will marry without much trouble,
A handsome millionaire.

ROSE RODRIQUES
When Rose goes to Europe
She'll marry a foreign lad,
And they will always be happy—
Never, never sad

ELEANOR SELLECK
Eleanor will marry
A very handsome preacher—
And the ceremony will take place
On some glad and glorious Easter.

BARBARA SENESAC
A French teacher of lasting fame
Will be our Barbara, dear
For she has always had the name
Of liking to persevere.

CESLAVA STUPALSKI
Of all the nurses in New Bedford
Ceslava will be the best
For she'll be as patient
As if she didn't need to rest.

ALVIDA SWIFT
Alvida will not settle down
Until she has been all around,
Then she'll meet the one and only
And never after will be lonely.

IRENE SYLVIA
A very good nurse Irene will be,
She'll be the beacon of ward "D"
For she loves to help children you see
And get them to feel as well as can be.

FRANCIS TOLETTI
As the head waiter
In a large hotel,
Francis will serve you,
For he'll know his business well.

BESSIE WALMSLEY
Because of her pleasing smile,
In some college far away,
Bessie will be chosen
As the Queen of May.

JAMES WING
James is going to join the Navy,
For adventure and for fun.
We wonder if he'll know "Old Davy,"
If his ship on the rocks does run.

Commercial Course

By GLADYS ALLMOND and BERTHA L. ROCHA

JOHN AIROZO

John is now a dog breeder
His kennels are known far and wide,
You never see him anywhere
But he has a dog by his side.

ANTONE ALLEMAO

Antone is a tailor
Who keeps men's clothes pressed and clean,
He recently opened a new shop
Which he calls "Gentlemen Serene."

MAY ALTMAN

As a skillful horseback rider,
May ranks among the best,
She'll spend a thrilling life-time,
On her great big ranch in the West.

SOPHIE AUGUSTYNE

Sophie will keep a millinery store,
Filled with hats so chic and neat,
Visit her and you will declare,
That all other stores she has beat.

MARY BACKUS

Mary will soon be married,
Somewhere in New York, I guess,
And when she isn't with her husband,
You'll find her flirting with the rest.

VIOLET BALDWIN

Violet is a star at dancing,
As you already probably know,
Some day we'll see her as the lead,
In George White's latest show.

ALTON BARBER

Alton is now a carpenter,
Who has all kinds of tools,
He uses good old New Bedford High,
For that pattern of all his schools.

LOUISE BARKSDALE

Louise has stepped up in this world,
Do not be surprised when we say,
She is now an elocutionist in the evening,
And runs a child nursery during the day.

CLARENCE BEARD

No wonder I couldn't find him
In the directories of the State
As Clarence is in the Olympics,
Scoring in running at a great rate.

LEON BELLAVANCE

Listening in the other night,
To Calloway's jazzy saxophone,
Bellavance's voice I immediately recognized,
Announcing at the microphone.

ADOLPH BENDER

Adolph will go to Africa
To hunt big lion game,
And before we all know it,
He will be at the door of Fame.

ALICE BLAIS

In the Star Store Beauty Salon
Alice is a manicurist,
Her customers are becoming plentiful
As she is practically a specialist.

JOSEPH BOC

Joseph is now a trainer,
In the Y. M. C. A.,
He teaches daily dozens,
For his former classmates to do each day.

JACK BOLTON

Jack will soon run for mayor,
In his native city,
His friends claim he is sure to win,
Because he is so very witty.

CLINTON BRALEY

Clinton is a well known writer,
Of national and international renown,
"Who's Who" has added him to its list,
And more honor to our town.

MARIE ANNE BREAULT

Marie has entered a convent
A nun she is to be,
She has already taken her vows
To live a life of sanctity.

ANDREW BROOKS

Andrew is a famed dancing master,
He will teach you how to step,
All the girls gladly attend his school,
For he certainly has got the pep.

NORMAN BROTHERSON

Norman who is a gentleman of leisure,
Just as he said he'd be,
He has beautiful yachts galore,
To sail him upon every sea.

CANDIDA BURGO

Candida must have patience and time
A governess she has become,
She takes the children to the park every afternoon,
And sits reading in the sun.

EMILE CAMANDONA

Emile will undoubtedly be a farmer,
Raising things that are so sweet,
And we declare that before very long,
He'll surely be on easy street.

CATHERINE CAMARA

Catherine will work
In the office of a millionaire
But if she doesn't tend to business
She'll probably get the air.

CLOTILDE CAMILLO

As a nursemaid Clotilde is very busy,
Spanking her little Junior,
Because he has destroyed,
His mother's pet petunia.

MARY CARNEY

Mary has become a milliner
Who has to employ much help,
Her models are unique
Especially in the felt.

DOMINICA CARANDO

Demonstrating all kinds of cosmetics
Down in Cherry's Specialty Store,
You'll find our classmate Dinny,
Just inside the entrance door.

LYDIA CARRERA

Lydia is a hater of all N. B. boys,
She is quite unaffected by their smiles,
And I really think she'll end up,
Marrying a lad from the Fiji Isles.

AVIS CHADWICK

Avis is skillful with her brush
And we're sure she'll play a part
As a famous painter of her day
In the highest realms of art.

ADRIENNE CHAMPAGNE

I recently visited a large hotel
And was very surprised to see
Adrienne serving as cigarette girl
Hiding behind an ornamental orange tree.

FOTIS CHIRIGOTIS

When you want fresh fruit
Be sure to go to the latest "Fruit Mart"
It is being run by our classmate Fotis
Who at first started with a push cart.

HELEN CLIFF

We only hope Helen is a good sailor,
As a Captain's wife she is to be,
For it sure would be hard for someone,
If she was unable to sail the seven seas.

FLORENCE COHEN

While visiting a marathon in New York
We were surprised to recognize one contestant
It was none other than our former classmate Florence
Who believed the prize to be a good investment.

STELLA COOPER

With her wavy hair and ever present smile,
We knew something great she'd surely be,
For now Stella is the leading model,
In a hat shop in the gay "Paree."

ESTELLA COSTA

Estella is quiet and demure,
She shuns all toil and strife,
We prophecy for her a career,
As a faithful, loving wife.

ZERMIRA COSTA

Zermira her long hair has shorn,
(We thought she would never dare.)
And now she is telling other girls,
The advantages of bobbed hair.

EDWIN CZARNOTA

Edwin will take your picture,
And is always sure to please,
His scenery is exceptionally unique,
It always being palm trees.

FLORENCE DAIGLE

Florence is working in a knit shop
As a knitting and crochet instructor,
Her instructions are never failing,
And when working she is never known to falter.

JOHN DAKIN

John's former inability
To take shorthand has disappeared,
And now he's head stenographer,
In the State Court of Appeals.

EVA DesRUISSEAU

Eva is a bookkeeper in a grocery store
And keeps the accounts in good order
She does various other odd jobs
And may even take your store order.

SYLVIA DRAZEN

Sylvia is always seen, not heard,
She is as quiet as a mouse,
Her life will be a peaceful one.
As she'll spend it keeping house.

ALIETTE DUFOUR

While listening in on the radio
Who do you think was the guest singer?
It was Aliette whose appealing voice
We were sorry could not linger.

MARY EAGAN

Mary's hopes have not been realized
Despite the fact she wished to be a commercial teacher
Fate was not altogether in her favor
And she is now an evangelist preacher.

HEDWIG ELINEFSKY

Hedwig will go a-teaching
In some big shorthand school,
For she is very good you see,
And gets rapid dictation, as a rule.

ARTHUR FILIAULT

Arthur was ever inconspicious,
But on him do not waste pity,
For he has risen from office boy,
To bank president in Salt Lake City.

ELSIE FIRTH

We found Elsie in the far cold north,
Running a store that is made of ice,
She sells peanuts to the Eskimos,
And other things that are so nice.

ALBERT FONTES

Albert has surely done some climbing,
Since he left the dear High School,
For now he's a judge in the League of Nations,
And always manages to keep calm and cool.

ROSE FOSTER

Rose strives daily at her new job,
She is employed as a literary assistant
She looks to a very bright future
And of success she is very confident.

LILLIAN FREDETTE

Lillian has turned professional,
As she is now a talented dancer,
She has many booked engagements,
And is a foremost entertainer.

FRANCIS GANNON

East to West and back again,
Francis runs the great big train,
He doesn't ever get the time,
To walk down Lover's Lane.

ESTELLE GEFFEN

Estelle is now an elocutionist,
Who travels far and wide,
But when we go to hear her
We need a dictionary for a guide.

LORRAINE GIROUARD

Lorraine has now won a husband,
At least that's what she said,
She got him by dancing the Nira
And standing on her head.

HILDA GLEEK

Hilda's voice is very familiar,
She is the announcer for a radio program,
She gives all kinds of hints
To aid you in your work in the home.

ADOLF GOLDA

Adolf will be a flyer,
Of world wide reputation,
And when he gets you way up high,
Girls! What a situation.

ISABELLE GOMES

Isabelle is an eloquent preacher,
Whose sermons you should hear,
For they will make you happy,
Although you shed a tear.

RHODA GRAHAM

To all the dances, plays, and musicales,
Our well-known Rhoda now goes free,
To write them up, she never fails,
For she is a star reporter, you see.

LIONEL GREGOIRE

Lionel who is always asleep on his feet,
Perhaps in the future will be a pastor,
And when he preaches long and slow,
They'll wish he could go faster.

DORIS GUSTAFSON

Doris will live in an apartment,
As happy as can be,
All alone with her, cat and dog,
And her sweetheart's memory.

RAYMOND HALL

As typewriter repair man
Raymond is always in great demand,
And N. B. H. S. keeps him on the hop,
As he is at its command.

CARL HALLETT

Carl is a first-class farmer,
You should see the squashes he grows!
He's in partnership with his father,
And specializes in shooting crows.

FREDA HEPTONSTALL

Freda is now in business
In a Men's Clothing Store,
She easily earns her pay,
'Cause she gets the trade galore.

MARTHA HUDECEK

Martha is quite a saleslady,
She can sell you all kinds of hose,
And she is sure to mention
That they will not wear at the toes.

ALICE ISHERWOOD

Alice is now a mannikin;
She works five hours a day,
Her creations are all hand-knitted,
And I'll say she draws SOME pay.

CHARLES ISHERWOOD

Charles has made a definite start,
On the road to fame and wealth,
For now he is treasurer,
Of our noted Commonwealth.

FRANK JACINTHO

While visiting the Roxy theatre,
I met with a big surprise,
For playing the accordian in the spot-light,
Was Frank playing in disguise.

JOSE JARDIN

The Navy is to claim one of our classmates,
As Jose intends to join after graduation,
He'll travel far, but we only hope
New Bedford will still hold his fascination.

NELLIE KIMBALL

In school we saw Nellie's acting ability
This she continued and is now quite a star,
She has appeared on many local stages,
And is now traveling near and far.

DOROTHY KING

Dorothy is now nursing patients.
Morning, noon, and night,
She gives them carbolic acid,
Whether it is wrong or right.

EMILIA LADETTO

A personal secretary is Emilia,
And finds her position very pleasant.
As she is regularly employed
By a traveling lecturer, at present.

EDGAR LAFRANCE

As for this witty classmate of ours,
Just let me put you wise,
Edgar will spend his life the same old way,
Thinking up some alibis.

LOUISE LAMBERT

While recently tending to some business,
I found Louise at the counter,
Here she is working every day,
At the bank in our city center.

CATHERINE LATHAM

A local drug store is now employing Catherine,
She works in the cosmetic department,
To her take your various troubles,
And she'll even supply with liniment.

EDNA LAW

Edna has become a renowned cook,
And has recently opened some goody shops,
And by what we have already heard,
Her cooking is proclaimed the "tops."

HOMER LEBEAU

Homer is working very hard,
As an amateur detective,
He always manages to get his man,
And his work is rather effective.

HERVÉ LEBLANC

Herve is now running a nifty cabaret,
Where his great friends dance and sup,
Business there is never dull,
As everything is on the "up and up."

JEANNE LEDUC

Jeanne is now running a business
To help the fat lose weight,
Her business has proven prosperous,
'Cause she's found them all a mate.

ROSE LERNER

Rose is still a little flirt,
She charms them with her eyes,
"Come hither, come hither," she calls
To all the handsome guys.

GRACE LEUPOLD

As a comedian on the "Great White Way"
Grace has earned her fame,
Audiences burst into loud applause
As anyone merely mentions her name.

JOSEPH LEVASSEUR

Joseph's driving is no mean feat,
A taxi driver he'll surely be,
And pick up all the maidens so sweet,
Who beckon so very charmingly.

DOROTHY LILLEY

Dorothy likes to work
In the office of Dr. Leclaire,
But if she doesn't tend to business
He'll be giving her the air.

ALBERT LUCARDI

Albert will surely be a boxer
To knock Joe Louis cold,
His N. B. friends will be there,
And all ring side seats will be sold.

EDITH McINTYRE

Edith is an usher
At Roxy's Theatre in New York,
After seeing her in her uniform
Her home town friends are sure to talk.

EDMUND MALECKI

Edmund has had very good luck,
Since he left on board a ship;
I hear he's been made first mate,
And hopes to be skipper next trip.

JEANETTE MANDEVILLE

Jeanette will go to Sargent's
Where she will take up gym,
We hope she will return to N. B.
And teach the girl athletes how to win.

IRMA MARCELLINO

Irma has many unique ideas
And expresses them in many novelties,
She is well liked by her associates
Because of her continuous frivolities.

HYMAN MARINOFF

Hyman deals in common deals,
He has nuts and nuts galore,
He's not a teacher nor a grocer,—
He's running a hardware store.

LINDA MARTINS

Linda we see whenever we are shopping
She stands on Main Street
Directing traffic to and fro
As a modern traffic cop she can't be beat.

LOUISE MEDEIROS

Louise is writing many books,
And is now quite an authoress,
We forecast for her only the best
Which will make her a big success.

FRANK MELLO

Frank is now an author
Who writes books for folks to read,
His "Life at New Bedford High School,"
Surely, the best sellers it will lead.

ANTONE MONTEIRO

Antone just rides, rides, rides,
For he is now a car conductor in New York,
He sees many interesting sights
And certainly gives you a line of talk.

RALPH MOORE

Ralph is the decided reason,
Why so many girls leave home,
He carries in his pockets,
A vanity, file, and comb.

ESTELLE MORENCY

Estelle has a pleasing tone,
And a charming personality,
With the aid of both she has established,
A beauty parlor in an excellent locality.

THELMA MOSS

Thelma works in a candy shop,
And wears an apron neat,
She'll sell you a red lollypop,
Or anything good to eat.

FRANCES MROCZKOWSKI

Francis married a rancher
And immediately moved way out West,
We see very little of her now
Except when she comes East for a rest.

GLADYS MURACH

Gladys is employed as a stenographer
For a prominent undertaker
She's afraid to go to bed at night
But in the morn—just try and wake her.

MANUEL NASCIMENTO

Manuel will be a barber,
And listen to men rave,
When he gets tired of their gabbing,
He'll give them a close shave.

MABEL NEVES

A librarian Mabel will be,
She'll start work next fall,
And will be able to pick out a love story,
As she has read them all.

MANUEL NEVES

Manuel loves a life of ease,
With lots of time to fritter,
And that is why I prophesy
He'll be a flag-pole sitter.

LOUISE NORRIS

Louise is now a private secretary
To some New York diplomat,
She is kept on the run
And is obliged to dine at the Automat.

ELLSWORTH OLIVER

Ellsworth is a circus clown,
He laughs the lifelong day,
And if you are feeling sad,
He will chase your blues away.

LEONARD OLIVER

Leonard is quite a success
He has become a navigator,
And sails the ocean deep
In a large ocean freighter.

EDNA PACHECO

Edna is a designer,
For some Paris hat shops,
Making rather crazy styles,
Which we think are the tops.

JOSEPH PACHECO

A bus driver in our own city,
Joseph drives the bus to the West End,
He gives you all kinds of service
And to your luggage he will attend.

HELEN PALKO

Helen has certainly taken to the air,
She is now an airplane hostess,
She encounters many adventures
And is meeting with great success.

GERTRUDE PAYETTE

Gertrude is now an editor
Of a fashionable magazine,
She works very long and hard,
And still her income remains lean.

NORMAN PEREIRA

Norman is a radio announcer,
He broadcasts all the fights,
Louis, Schmelling, Braddock, all
And broadcasts operas on other nights.

VERNAL PHILLIPS

On a new building on the Fall River road
Hangs a sign "Vernal Phillip's Dairy"
It is the latest type structure
And is very light and airy.

RAUL PEREIRA

Raul is now a golfer,
He plays in almost every game,
The way he swings that golf stick,
Is certainly a shame.

FRANK PERRY

Frank will be a waiter,
In some ritzy New York cafe,
Serving the ladies free luncheons,
On a very expensive tray.

MARGARET PERRY

I found that as an artist
Margaret is faring very well,
I am sure her fame will increase,
But the results,—time only will tell.

ELAINE PETERS

Elaine, a very young divorcee gay,
Is looking for a husband new,
And she solemnly swears,
To this one she will stick like glue.

MILTON PIMENTAL

Milton is now an archeologist
And travels here and there
Unearthing relics of ancient origin
Which are considered very rare.

GLADYS PINCHBECK

Gladys works hard every day
As she is now a dietician
Doing all her work behind the scenes
And gaining little recognition.

ROLAND POIRIER

Roland was always full of fun,
He's now entered the entertainment line,
And is now running a unique cafe
Where you may wine, dance, and dine.

FERDINAND PRZYBYLA

Ferdinand has now become
The owner of a gas station,
He will supply you with gas
And all road information.

ALFRED REGO

Alfred sure has an easy time,
Listening to music all the day,
You see he runs the dobby horses,
At the park down on the bay.

ANTONE RODERICK

If you desire any gardening advice,
Be sure to call our friend Antone,
Pick out the seeds that you desire
And with greatest care they will be sown.

ELEANOR ROGERS

To a very rich politician,
Eleanor did give her hand,
And now in 1948,
She is First Lady of the Land.

HILDA ROSE

Hilda is now a clerk
Selling Junior Misses' Clothes
In one month, from an extra clerk
To head saleslady, she rose.

JOSEPHINE ROSKOWICZ

Josephine is now running a florist shop
Where there are flowers galore,
Which are bound to please you
In the new and attractive store.

IRENE SALMON

The circus has just arrived in town,
And who do you think is in it?
None other than our Irene
Who plays an obsolete spinet.

MARY SANTOS

A health shop has been opened
By Mary, on Purchase Street,
Here are all the best foods for you,
And many that will be a great treat.

PRESTON SELLEY

While going thru town one day,
A large new sign caught my eyes,
"Preston Selley," is what is said,
"Dealer in Auto Tires and Supplies."

GEORGE SHARP

In a little work shop of his own,
You will see George everyday,
Putting heels on the ladies' shoes,
And making a break that way.

ELIOT SHILL

Eliot has become an editor,
Of the latest unknown "Post,"
He is sure to make a scoop,
But about this, he's never known to boast.

ALVAH SHURTLEFF

Automobiles are Alvah's present job,
He finds all the squeaks and rattles,
From hood to wheel, and crank to horn;
With auto troubles he always battles. .

JOSEPH SILVA

A very needed profession Joseph has entered,
He is now a local locksmith,
And has a large store on the Avenue,
Making locks that can not be tampered with.

MARY SILVA

Mary is living on a farm,
Raising ducks and chickens,
And when she forgets to water them,
Her mate gives her the dickens.

MURIEL SIMPSON

Muriel was always so dainty,
And always so very sweet,
You'd never believe she was a golddigger,
Down on old Wall Street.

LOUISE SMITH

A pretty little nurse is Louise,
She wears a cap and gown,
Her golden hair and big blue eyes,
Make her the belle of her town.

LIONEL SOUSA

Another classmate who couldn't be found,
Anywhere near his former home,
Was Lionel who now plays the organ,
At the largest cathedral near Rome.

SUSAN SPOONER

Susan who is so petite and small
Has found the most delightful employment,
Working as an elderly lady's companion
Who travels continuously for her enjoyment.

ARTHUR SULLIVAN

Arthur is now a prominent jeweler,
Be sure to go to him for your jewels,
And very few would ever think,
He was once a user of carpenter's tools.

MILDRED SYLVIA

Mildred is next to the smallest,
Of our graduating class,
But when she gets out of school,
She's bound to grow up very fast.

FERNANDE TALBOT

To all those opening a new office!
Fernande will aid you in getting furnishings
As in this she is a great specialist,
Having furnished many prominent buildings.

WANDA TENCZAR

Wanda we will now find in N. Y.
Working in a large shoe store,
All her customers declare
They always go back to her for more.

LENA THOMAS

You will live in an apartment
Just as happy as can be,
All alone with a cat and dog,
And with no one to disagree.

LOUISE TRAVERS

Isn't it strange how we do change,
For now Louise, who was so quiet,
Is now the leading chorus girl,
In a Boston show, which caused a riot.

KOULA TSOTSONES

Even when you are very old and gray
You are sure to see gay Paree,
And you will still be making,
What we here call, "Whoopee."

EMILY VASCONCELLES

Emily is learning to play tennis,
And will practise day after day,
She'll soon be challenging Helen Moody
And then she'll have her glorious day.

CLARENCE VIEIRA

Clarence slaves in an office,
Morning, noon, and night,
He has some great ambitions,
And tries with all his might.

IRENE WARRINGTON

Irene is cooking very tasty meals,
For her new husband very dear,
She forgets her burns and bruises,
When the day is through and he is near.

SYLVIA WEBLEY

That Sylvia has a charming way,
Must surely be confessed,
She'll meet a nice young man some day,
And then—you know the rest.

LOUISE WHOLLEY

As a doctor's needy assistant,
Louise is now working,
And she enjoys her new position,
And is never found shirking.

FRANCIS WICKHAM

Francis has become an automobile salesman,
And presents very stronge defensive arguments,
And though you didn't contemplate buying a car,
You find yourself paying the weekly installments.

ALICE WILKINSON

Alice now runs a candy shop,
Down on Purchase Street,
She doesn't maks much money,
Since she eats up all the sweets.

THELMA WOOD

With her ever present head work,
And especially captivating airs,
Thelma will have no trouble landing,
A very handsome millionaire.

STELLA XIFARAS

Stella, a member of our class,
Has opened a hair dressing shop,
She's winning fame by her marcel waves
Be sure to have her fix you for the "hop."

IRENE BRULE

The great Hollywood has beckoned
A vivacious young miss of our class,
But strange to say, Irene is cast
As a quiet old-fashion, demure lass.

Prophecies of the Prophets

Chairman—DOROTHY FONTAINE

Dorothy Fontaine petite and blonde,
A beautician will be some day,
No longer will she be just plain "Dot"
But instead "Mademoiselle Dorothé".

MARY KEENAN

Mary will keep a boarding house
For a group of college students.
And she'll always be right at hand
When it's time to collect the rents.

RENA WELLER

Always in spring are a new set of lovers,
Searching for words that are flowery and sweet,
The next generation will always be quoting
Her poetry that will make their hearts beat.

GLADYS ALLMOND

Gladys will be the writer of the column I'll Tell,"
Giving popular advice to the lovelorn,
In this field you can be sure that she will excel,
As her love affairs have been forlorn.

BERTHA L. ROCHA

Bertha now sells automobiles,
And really has quite a line.
She recently sold an Oldsmobile
And now someone doesn't think Chryslers so fine.
